Vaada — Stake Your Word

Effective Date: February 16, 2026 Last Updated: February 16, 2026

Welcome to Vaada (<https://vaada.io>), operated by Vaada ("we," "us," or "our"). By accessing or using our platform, you agree to these Terms of Service ("Terms"). If you do not agree, do not use Vaada.

1. Overview of the Platform

Vaada is a skill-based fitness commitment platform that allows users to stake cryptocurrency (USDC) on personal fitness goals. Users commit to achieving measurable fitness outcomes — such as daily step counts (via Fitbit) or distance milestones (via Strava) — over a defined period. Users who meet their goals receive their stake back plus a proportional share of forfeited stakes from users who did not meet their goals.

Vaada is not gambling. Outcomes on Vaada are determined entirely by the user's own physical activity and effort. Users have full control over whether they achieve their stated fitness goals. Vaada operates skill-based commitment contracts, similar in nature to platforms like StepBet, DietBet, and other fitness accountability services.

2. Eligibility

To use Vaada, you must:

- Be at least 18 years of age
- Have the legal capacity to enter into a binding agreement
- Not be a resident of any jurisdiction where participation in skill-based commitment contracts or use of cryptocurrency is prohibited
- Not be on any government sanctions list (OFAC, EU, UN, or equivalent)

By using Vaada, you represent and warrant that you meet all eligibility requirements.

3. Account Registration and Authentication

Vaada uses Privy for authentication. You may sign in via email, Google account, or cryptocurrency wallet. You are responsible for:

- Maintaining the security of your authentication credentials
- All activity that occurs under your account
- Ensuring your connected fitness accounts (Fitbit, Strava) accurately reflect your own personal activity

You may not create multiple accounts, impersonate others, or use automated means to generate fitness data.

4. How Vaada Works

4.1 Commitment Contracts

Users join challenges by staking $5 USDC on a fitness goal. Goals are verified through connected fitness devices and apps (Fitbit for steps, Strava for distance/miles).

4.2 Outcomes

- Winners (users who meet their goal): Receive their original stake back, plus a proportional share of the pool of forfeited stakes from users who did not meet their goal.
- Losers (users who do not meet their goal): Forfeit their staked USDC. Forfeited stakes are distributed to winners and/or the Vaada treasury.

4.3 Skill-Based Nature

All outcomes on Vaada are determined by the user's own effort and physical activity. Unlike gambling, there is no element of chance — you control whether you achieve your goal. This is a commitment device designed to help you follow through on fitness intentions.

5. Smart Contracts and Blockchain

5.1 Non-Custodial Architecture

Vaada uses smart contracts deployed on Base (an Ethereum Layer 2 network) to hold and distribute staked funds. Vaada operates on a non-custodial basis — we do not hold, control, or have access to your staked funds once they are deposited into a smart contract.

5.2 Blockchain Risks

By using Vaada, you acknowledge and accept the following risks:

- Smart contract risk: Smart contracts may contain bugs, vulnerabilities, or exploits that could result in loss of funds. While we take reasonable measures to audit and secure our contracts, no smart contract is guaranteed to be free of defects.
- Blockchain risk: Transactions on Base and Ethereum are irreversible. Network congestion, forks, or protocol changes may affect transaction processing.
- USDC risk: USDC is a stablecoin issued by Circle. Vaada has no control over USDC's peg, liquidity, or regulatory status. USDC is not legal tender and is not FDIC-insured.
- Wallet risk: You are solely responsible for the security of your cryptocurrency wallet, private keys, and seed phrases. Lost keys cannot be recovered by Vaada.
- Gas fees: Interacting with smart contracts may require payment of network gas fees, which are separate from and in addition to your stake.

5.3 No Guarantee of Fund Recovery

Once funds are deposited into a Vaada smart contract, distribution is governed by the contract's code. Vaada cannot reverse, modify, or override smart contract execution except as explicitly coded into the contract's logic.

6. Fitness Data and Verification

6.1 Data Sources

Vaada verifies goal completion using data from third-party fitness platforms:

- Fitbit — step count data
- Strava — distance and activity data

You must connect at least one supported fitness account to participate in challenges.

6.2 Data Accuracy

You are responsible for ensuring your fitness data is accurate and reflects genuine physical activity. The following are prohibited:

- Manipulating, spoofing, or fabricating fitness data
- Using devices or software to artificially inflate metrics
- Having another person wear your device or complete activities on your behalf

Vaada reserves the right to disqualify users and forfeit stakes if fraudulent activity is detected.

6.3 Third-Party Services

Fitbit and Strava are independent third-party services. Vaada is not responsible for their availability, accuracy, data handling, or terms of service. Your use of these services is governed by their respective terms and privacy policies.

7. Fees

Vaada may retain a percentage of forfeited stakes as a platform fee (treasury allocation). Current fee structures are displayed at the time of challenge creation. We reserve the right to modify fees with reasonable notice.

8. Prohibited Conduct

You agree not to:

- Use Vaada for money laundering, terrorist financing, or other illegal purposes

- Manipulate or exploit smart contracts in unintended ways
- Create fraudulent fitness data or accounts
- Interfere with the platform's operation or other users' experience
- Circumvent any security measures or access controls
- Use bots, scripts, or automated tools to interact with the platform (except through official APIs)

9. Intellectual Property

All content, branding, code, and materials on Vaada (excluding user-generated content and open-source components) are owned by Vaada. You may not copy, modify, or distribute our materials without permission.
